

Registered research students 2008/2009

- Lesley Acton
Allotments and domestic self-sufficiency
- Andrew Agate
Suburban development in later Anglo-Saxon and Norman England
- Despina Angelakou
Hellenistic relief sculpture from northern Greece
- Lorna Angulano
Roman silver production at Rio Tinto: the case study of Corta Lago
- Bastian Asmus
12th century copper production in the Harz Mountains, northern Germany
- Cesar Astuhuaman
The organization of the Inca Provinces within the Highlands of Piura, northern Peru
- Roseleen Bains
The social significance of stone bead technology at Neolithic Çatalhöyük
- Brigitte Balanda
Ancient Egypt and Napata: exchange and development of funerary traditions along the Lower and Middle Nile Valley and their impact on the rise of the kingdom of Napata
- Yvette Balbaligo
Investigating the variability of earthenware from Ille Cave, Palawan, the Philippines and the implications for southeast Asia
- Chris Beckham
Identity and statecraft in Uruk Mesopotamia
- Stefano Biagetti
Ethnoarchaeology of pastoralism in the Acacus Mountains (southwestern Fezzan, Libya): a case study of Kel Tadrart lineage
- Emmy Bocaege
Enamel defects as indicators of childhood stress in the Neolithic Near East
- Chiara Bonachhi
Communicating archaeology in the changing world of media: archaeological communication trends and potential for socioeconomic development and site management
- Gareth Brereton
The social life of humans: burial rites and the accumulation of capital during the transition from Neolithic to urban societies in the Near East
- Diana Briscoe
The stamped wheel-turned pottery of fourth century Britain and its relationship to the stamped hand-made pottery of the Post-Roman Period in Britain
- Katarzyna Bronk-Zaborowska
GIS approaches to archaeological heritage management: a case study from Poland
- Sue Brunning
The "living" sword in Anglo-Saxon England and Scandinavia c.500–1100: an interdisciplinary study
- Lesley Bushnell
The socioeconomic implications of the distribution of juglets in the eastern Mediterranean during the Middle and Late Bronze Age
- Maria Cardoso
The gesso layers on Portuguese Baroque altarpieces
- Duygu Camurcuoglu Cleere
The wall paintings of Çatalhöyük (Turkey): materials, technologies and artists
- Cristina Castillo
The archaeobotany of Khao Sam Kaeo: assessing the agriculture resource base and human occupation of a late prehistoric site on the Thai-Malay Peninsula
- Dimitra Christidou
Does "pointing at" in museum exhibitions make a point? Research of visitors' embodied responses and their use in measuring participation and meaning-making
- Philip Connolly
Compositional analysis as a means of studying ancient industry: the glass-making industries of the Iron Age/Hellenistic eastern Mediterranean and early Islamic Central Asia:
- Susheela Crease
An investigation of the practice of deposition in watery contexts in the British pre-Roman Iron Age – Roman transition
- Enrico Crema
The evolution of subsistence-settlement patterns in the north Pacific: cross-cultural analysis and simulation modelling of complex hunter-gatherer behaviour in prehistoric Japan and northwest America
- Anke Cross
"The gathered clouds did not rain": the 4KY event, climate change and adaptation in southeast Anatolia and Upper Mesopotamia
- Joanne Cutler
Production systems and social dynamics: a cross-media approach to "Minoanization" in the southern Aegean in the second millennium BC
- Mehdi Daryaie Fard
The kingdom of Elymais, southwest Parthian empire: a numismatic study
- Sarah Dhanjal
Is there a role for archaeology in diverse urban communities?
- Tessa Dickinson
Egyptian royal tombs in the early third millennium BC
- Maria Dikomitou
Ceramic production, distribution and social interaction: an analytical approach to the study of Middle Bronze Age pottery from Cyprus
- Sophia Downes
The aesthetics of empire in Athens and Persia
- Elpidia Dragasi
An investigation into the effectiveness of Greek legislation and policy in the protection of cultural heritage
- Jonathan Eagles
The reign, culture and legacy of Stefan the Great, voivode of Moldova: a study of ethnosymbolism in post-communist Romanian societies
- Stuart Eve
Through dead men's eyes: augmented reality, embodied GIS and visitors to open-air heritage sites
- Lydia Evdoxiadi-Verniory
Iron Age houses and households in the southern Levant
- Sarah Foster
The Neolithic transition in the Nile valley: modelling social networks
- Sarah Franke
Metallurgy of the 3rd millennium in upper Mesopotamia and the Jezirah
- Michael Galer
Shaping "cultural" identity and ethnicity: Roman auxilia serving the northern military zone of Britannia and a critical examination of their representation in museums
- Nikolas Gestrich
Tongo Maare Diabal: a social archaeology of settlement in the Gourma region of Mali, c.AD800 – 1200
- John Giblin
Pre-colonial archaeology in Rwanda: continuity and variation in the Iron Age
- James Hales
Bats in churches: an objective assessment of perceived problems
- Kirsten Halliday
Imagery by default or design?: artisan and state in Chimu and Chimu-Inka cloth and clay
- Paul Harrison
Profane Egyptologists: lineage, legacy and cultural incorporation
- Brenna Hassett
Changing world, changing lives: enamel hypoplasia and child health in post-medieval London
- Birger Helgestad
Power negotiations and distributions of knowledge: glyptic iconographies and visual media strategies in late fourth millennium BC western Asia
- Elizabeth Henton
Changing herding practices in the Anatolian Neolithic landscape (the case study of Çatalhöyük)
- Ebony Hewson
British performing arts archives: what purpose do they serve?
- Katherine Hoare
Understanding Egyptianizing architecture
- Brian Hole
The use of archaeology by indigenous tribes and the nation state in India to reinforce and create national identities
- Virpi Homqvist
Ceramics in transition: a comparative analytical study of late Byzantine-early Islamic pottery in southern Transjordan and the Negev

- Qiyang Hong
The technological study of early iron workshops in south Henan, China
- Jane Humphris
An archaeometallurgical investigation of iron smelting in southern Rwanda
- Alice Hunt
Archaeological and archaeometric analysis of Neo-Assyrian Palace ware
- Francesco Iacono
Opening the sea gates of Europe: interaction in the southern Adriatic sea during the Late Bronze Age
- Louise Iles
Technology, society and "tradition": reconstructing the iron industries in Bunyoro-Kitara
- John Johnston
Aspects of display and identity in "Egyptian" burials at Panopolis (Akhmim) during the Ptolemaic period
- Fernanda Kalazich
Cultural meanings and values of the Likian Antai: the practice of archaeology through a participatory approach
- Tania Kausmally
William Hewson and the Craven Street Anatomy School
- Elpidia Kosmidou
Arms and armour in Greek coinage, c. 500 – 150 BC: military, historical, socio-political, and symbolic aspects
- Chris Lagen
The manufacture and meaning of early Medieval pewter
- Janice Li
Defining and interpreting specialization and standardization: the bronze weapons of the terracotta warriors of the Qin Dynasty, China
- Simonetta Losi
The gifts of death: mortuary practices and ideology in Neolithic Sardinia
- Leilani Lucas
Economy and interaction: exploring archaeobotanical contributions in prehistoric Cyprus
- Nichola Lyons
Migration in Roman Britain
- Steven Markofsky
Illuminating the Black Sands: survey and settlement in the Bronze Age Murghab delta, Turkmenistan
- Ken Marks
Archaeology of Anglo-Jewry 1656–1880
- Simon Martin
The ancient Maya state: an epigraphic approach to reconstructing a pre-Hispanic political system
- Luigi Martucci
Assessing the correspondence of the palynological and archaeological records in southwestern Uganda
- Michele Massa
Networks of interaction in early Bronze Age Anatolia
- Mariya Masabuchi
Iron and steel production in central Anatolia c. 1650–600 BC in light of socio-cultural transition before and after the collapse of the Hittites
- Sally McAleely
Arranged floral material culture: using archaeobotanical remains from ancient Egypt
- Flora Michelaki
Mortuary architecture, depositional behaviour and social change in the tholos cemeteries of south-central Crete, 3000–1700 BC
- Sada Mire
Contextualizing religion, landscape and sacred fertility in the Horn of Africa: the ideological significance of the site of Aw-Barkhadle in Somaliland
- Aude Mongiatti
Assaying and smelting noble metals in sixteenth century Austria: a comparative analytical study
- Owain Morris
Local contexts, regional networks: connectivity and Greek colonization in the ancient Mediterranean
- Charlene Murphy
Pompeii, a changing city: the archaeobotanical analysis of Regio VI Insula VI.1
- Denitsa Nenova
Social and cultural dynamics in Thrace during the Late Bronze Age
- Effrosyni Nomikou
A museological approach to numismatic exhibitions: the case study of the Ashmolean Museum
- Hilary Orange
Public perceptions of Cornish mining landscapes
- Elizabeth Pamberg
The socio-cultural context of the production, distribution and use of African red slip ware, AD 100–700
- Rui Pang
Towards sustainable cultural heritage management in China: an evaluation of systems based on current theory and practice in Han City of Chang'an
- Hae Woon Park
The structuration of complexity in Ancient Korea: the rise of ancient states in the Nakdong River Basin from the 2nd century BC to the 6th century AD
- Alice Paterakis
The formation of acetate corrosion on bronze art and antiquities: recommendations for conservation, storage and exhibition
- Elisa Perego
The construction of personhood in Iron Age Veneto (Italy)
- Ryan Perry
In search of a Middle Assyrian style
- Renata Peters
Redressing misrepresentation: the role of conservation
- Susan Poole
Gender roles and relations in the Aegean Bronze Age interpreted from the gestures, postures and inter-relational placement depicted in the imagery of frescoes, glyptics and three-dimensional artefacts
- Miljana Radivojevic
The origins of metallurgy in Europe: metal production in the Vinca culture
- Carolyn Rando
Human behaviour and the temporomandibular joint
- Anna Razeto
A comparative study of cities: Rome and Han China
- Jonathan Rees
Settlement patterns in Roman Galicia from 27BC to AD 409
- Tobias Richter
Marginal landscapes? The Azraq Oasis and the cultural landscapes of the final Pleistocene Levant
- Isabel Rivera-Collazo
Between land and sea: mid-Holocene maritime hunter-gatherers in the Caribbean
- Tessa Robinson
The cultural and social significance of knots amongst the Ancient Maya
- Kate Russell
A re-examination of variability in handaxe form in the British Palaeolithic
- Philippa Ryan
Diversity of plant and land-use during the Near Eastern Neolithic: a phytolith perspective from Çatalhöyük
- Anastasia Sakellariadi
Archaeology for the people? Greek archaeology and its public, if there is one: an analysis of the sociopolitical and economic role of archaeology in Greece from the foundation of the modern Greek State (1831) to the present day
- Alessandra Salvin
House and household in third millennium Mesopotamian society: archaeological perspectives
- Jane Sarre
Communities of memory: an analysis of the influence of participation and trust on the visual culture of diversity in city history galleries?
- Ruth Scheidhauer
Cultural heritage interpretation and policy in Kaesong: the possibilities for Inter-Korean rapprochement through shared cultural heritage
- Angela Shackleton
Climate, innovation and social structure in the late Pleistocene of Africa and Europe
- Michael Shapland
Towers of lordship: tower-nave churches in society and landscape of early Medieval England
- Mary Shepperson
The use and meaning of light in ancient Mesopotamian cities

Brian Shottenkirk

Improvise, adapt and overcome. The individual and material transformation in conflict: the Great War (1914–18)

Melina Smirniou

Investigation of Late Bronze Age primary glass production in Egypt and the eastern Mediterranean

Geoff Smith

A contextual approach to the study of faunal assemblages from the Lower and Middle Palaeolithic in the UK

Jixiang Song

The agricultural economy during the Longshan period: an archaeobotanical perspective from Shandong and Shanxi

Beliz Tecirli

Archaeological parks: the Çatalhöyük case study

Kimberley Te Winkle

Monuments and voices: cultural resource management in Tibetan Sichuan

Daniel Thompson

Multi-spectral archaeological prospection: a case study in the Dinar region, central western, Turkey

Thomas Thondhlana

Metal workers and smelting precincts: an archaeometallurgical investigation of copper production in the northern Lowveld, South Africa, c.AD 700–1900

Amara Thornton

British archaeologists, social networks and the emergence of a profession, 1870–1945

Reuben Thorpe

Urban formation and transformation: perspectives on social and stratigraphic complexity from Roman urban centres

Eleni Vomvyla

Addressing cultural diversity and inclusiveness through the archaeological past: a case study of multicultural Athenian society

Philippa Walton

An applied numismatic analysis of the PAS Roman coin data

Hua Wang

Animal utilization of the Yangshao period in the Wei River Valley, focusing on the Wayaogou site, Shaanxi province

Alison Weisskopf

Vegetation, agriculture and social change in Late Neolithic China: a phytolith study

Jennifer Wexler

Mortuary landscapes: spatial analysis of Copper and Bronze Age tombs in western Sicily

Meredith Wiggins

Roman households: pace, status and identity

Parthiban Yahambaram

A case study in the anthropology of imperialism: the Neo-Assyrian Empire in the 8th–7th centuries BCE

Min Yin

The earliest high-fired glazed ceramics in China: scientific studies of the proto-porcelains from Zhejiang during the Shang and Zhou periods (c.1700–221 BC)

Victoria Yorke-Edwards

Obesity in London 1700–1850: the archival and osteoarchaeological evidence

Claudia Zehrt

Do we need royalty? The negotiation of social identity from the standpoint of the support population at Minanha, Belize

Wenli Zhou

The technology and organization of zinc production in Chongqing, China during the Ming and Qing dynasties

Bianca Zonta

The significance and materiality of bodily adornment in death throughout the third millennium BC Near East

Lefteris Zorzos

Reconstructing the Bronze Age environment and land-use on Thera: a phytolith-based approach

PIA

Papers from the Institute of Archaeology are produced annually by graduate students of the Institute. Volume 19 (and previous volumes) can be obtained from:

The Editors PIA, Institute of Archaeology, UCL, 31–34 Gordon Square, London WC1H 0PY, England

Email: pia.journal@ucl.ac.uk

Or via the PIA website:

www.ucl.ac.uk/archaeology/pia

Volume 19 contains:

FORUM John Curtis, Relationships between archaeologists and the military in the case of Iraq, with responses from Jon Price, Mike Rowlands, Laurie W. Rush and René Teijgeler, and a reply by John Curtis

INTERVIEW Stephen Shennan, Director of the Institute of Archaeology

RESEARCH PAPERS Kalliopi Fouseki and Caroline Sandes, Private preservation versus public presentation: the conservation for display of in situ fragmentary archaeological remains in London and Athens; Gabriel Moshenska, Second World War archaeology in schools: a backdoor to the history curriculum Jonathan T. Thomas, Approaching specialisation: craft production in Late Neolithic Copper Age Iberia

SHORT REPORTS Brian Cockrell, Black bronze and its enigmatic patina; Quetta Kaye et al., Archaeological investigations on Carriacou, West Indies, 7th July–9th August 2008; fieldwork and public archaeology

BOOK REVIEWS Gabriel Moshenska – L. Purbrick, L. Aulich and G. Dawson, eds, Contested spaces: sites, representations and histories of conflict (2007)

CONFERENCE REVIEWS Ian Richardson, "Archaeology 2008", British Museum, London, 9th–10th February 2008